SAVINGS STAMPS WILL SOON MATURE

Treasury Announces Plans For Handling Certificates

San Francisco—Governor John U. Calkins of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco is in receipt of an important telegram from the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C. which is in part as follows:

"The Treasury is announcing its plans for handling the war savings certificates of the series of 1918, which mature on January 1, 1923, to the amount of about $625,000,000. For the convenience of holders of these certificates the treasury is offering special facilities, first for their exchange into the new treasury savings certificates with provision for advance exchanges beginning November 15, 1922; and second, special facilities for cash redemption on and after January 1, 1923, with provision for presentation in advance for redemption as of that date. Postoffices and banking institutions throughout the United States will receive full information as to the provisions for redemption and exchange, and will be in a position to extend all possible assistance to their customers.

"Beginning November 15, 1922, holders of 1918 war savings certificates can exchange them at maturity value for treasury savings certificates dated January 1, 1923, and at the same time can get advance payment of any cash difference by taking the largest amount of treasury savings certificates that their war savings certificates taken at maturity value, will cover. Exchanges after January 15, 1923, with any necessary cash adjustments, will be made as of the date of exchange. Holders will not be able to make cash redemption of their certificates before maturity, but beginning November 15, 1922, may present them in advance for redemption as of January 1, 1923, and in that event will receive on or about January 1, 1923, checks payable to their order covering the redemption value.

"Registered war savings certificates will be presented to the postoffice where registered, but unregistered certificates will be received for redemption or exchange at any money order postoffice, Federal Reserve bank or branch, or the Treasury at Washington."

PISTOL DUEL AT TRACY

Two Deaths Result From Fight Over Liquor.

Stockton—In a pistol duel in a little one-room cabin in Tracy, Frank Ferro and Ramon Balder fought to the death, riddling the shack with bullets which miraculously missed Augustine Overollo, owner of the place, and Joe Lopez, a friend.

The shooting followed a night of drinking, and arose, declares Overollo, over a dispute concerning a bottle of whiskey.

Nine bullet holes were found in the cabin.

Ferro had lived in Tracy for several years. Balder arrived a few days ago from Mendocino county. Nothing is known of him. Ferro has relatives in Vallejo.

FORESTRY BUDGET CUT $93,000

Sacramento—A cut of $93,000 from the original biennial budget of the State Department of Forestry for the next two years was announced by State Forester M. B. Pratt. The total request is now for $161,200, which includes $15,000 for administrative expenses and the upkeep of the Humboldt Redwood park, and $3000 for the upkeep of Burney falls. The latter items are new functions of the board.

Do Not Sacrifice Your W. S. S.

It is widely rumored that many unscrupulous efforts are being made to induce holders of 1918 "War" Saving ($5 Stamp) certificates, to part with them for unstable investments or for considerably less cash than these certificates are actually worth.

By the advice of the Treasury Department issued thru the director of the Twelfth Federal Reserve Dist., we strongly advise all owners of filled or partly filled 1918 "War" Saving ($5 Stamp) certificates, which mature on January 1st, 1923, to accept not less for them than their face value of $5 per Stamp. This certificate is in form of a little ivory-colored folder to which the 1918 series of green $5 War Savings Stamps must be affixed for redemption.

Commencing November 15, 1922, these War Savings ($5 Stamp) certificates can be exchanged for the 1923 issue of 4% "Treasury Savings Certificates", thus extending for five years longer the investment of your money in this other profitable Government security, which likewise cannot possibly depreciate in value; or, if preferred, the said 1918 War Saving Certificates can be redeemed for their full face value, payable on January 1, 1923.

These exchanges and redemptions can be readily effected now by application to the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco and its branches, either direct or through local banking institutions, or at any money order postoffice.

Much Property Changes Hands

The real estate market has been very active of late and S. N. Hedegard reports the following sales and exchanges made thru his office.

Mrs. Barbara Graf sold her houses on Kennedy Avenue to C. E. Mills and became the owner of Mr. Mills' three acre chicken ranch on Pollard Road.

Antone Ferro sold his ten acre ranch an Latimer Avenue to Mitchell Lobrovitch, taking the Lobrovitch house on North Central Avenue, which was built by A. A. Purmort.

Mrs. Alice Smith sold her lot on South 3rd St. to Bert Freasher of Los Gatos who intends to build a home and reside in Campbell.

Prentice Childers of San Francisco has bought a three acre apricot orchard on Latimer Avenue belonging to Mr. Hedegard and has already started to build a home there.

Boys Victors Girls Defeated

The girls' and boys' basket ball teams played the Santa Clara teams Wednesday afternoon at that place, the boys winning 10 to 4, and the girls losing 13 to 7.

The line up for the Campbell girls was, forwards, Mary Lopes Geraldine Delbon; guards, Mary Devit, Alice Strom; centers, Ruth Miller, Dorothy Scranton.

Several substitutes played on the boys' quint, the bunch including Verne Sawyer, Gano Eddleman, Tom Lumb, Harold Shelley, Will Murphy, Franklin Blaine, Donald Feathers and Breck Reed.

Special attention of patrons of the post office is called to the mailing of letters. Their early dispatch from the office will be insured if they are dropped thru the letter slot and not thru the one for papers.

The boat leaving New York December 12 is the last one on which mail for European countries can leave and be sure of Christmas delivery. The shortest time for first class mail to cross the continent is the better part of six days, so Christmas packages and mail must be sent now.

Domestic packages should be mailed early also.

SUBSCRIBERS TO LIBRARY ARE STILL COMING IN

As announced last week we begin the publication of the list of subscribers to the Campbell Library Fund.

The response to the appeal has been so generous and so wide spread that the committee and the Club as a whole have felt that public recognition should be accorded the givers. Future subscribers will also be named before the publication is completed.

The fund is now over $8500.

South First St. To Be Improved

Among the items of business brought before the Country Woman's Club Monday was one which will be of interest to all patrons of the library and attendants of affairs at the I. O. O. F. Hall was that relative to the paving of South First Street from Campbell Avenue as far south as the two properties extend. Mr. Roll with committees from the two organizations met and inspected the street and the supervisor decided that the county would pay for paving 15 feet of the width of the street if the Odd Fellows would curb and pave 11 feet on their side and the Club the same on its side—the work to be done when Campbell Avenue is paved. The matter was acted upon favorably.

The report from the benefit entertainment given by Mrs. Vaudine Putnam Sanders' pupils was the net amount of $106.

Mrs. Allison announced that A. G. Noftz of the Orchard City Theater has offered all the income above expenses from the night of December 18 for the Library. The show will be "The Old Homestead", which will be shown the nights of December 17 and 18. This play is being screened in San Jose at the T & D but if those wishing to see it will postpone their going and patronize this theater on December 18 they will swell the library fund.

The subject for the afternoon was "Women in Prison Reform" by Mrs. Ellen R. Smith and Mrs. Mary Parkhill. Mrs. Smith opened the program with a short paper introducing Elizabeth Fry of England with whom the idea of bettering the condition of women prisoners in England developed. She was a "Friend" or Quakeress who after John Howard was the first to take any interest in ameliorating the degredation and distress of prisoners.

She was closely followed by Elizabeth Comstock who received her inspiration from Mrs. Fry, but whose good offices were exercised in our own country.

Mrs. Parkhill's division of the topic was in relation to the care of the insane, who at the opening of the 19th century were either incarcerated in jails in common with criminals, cared for by their families or left at large.

Dorothea Dix was the pioneer in securing modern asylums with all the attendant advantages which the mentally sick now enjoy.

The subjects were full of interest and the members regretted the curtailment of the program owing to extra business.

Entertainment A Splendid Success

As a demonstration of the latent possibilities inherent in human beings, the program of dancing Friday evening in which Mrs. Vaudine Putnam Sanders presented her pupils, was a most convincing one.

The highest encomiums were showered upon pupils and teacher for the grace, beauty, physical training and artistry displayed by all from the tiniest tots to the young misses.

Dainty and appropriate costuming added, in a great measure, to the attractiveness of the various numbers, but in the personality, variations of type, and skillful interpretation of the various dances by the performers, lay the great charm of the entertainment.

As seen by the program published last week, there were many national dances listed, and it was really remarkable how well the small children executed some of the more difficult of these. Others were noticeable for their grace and perfect rythmic motion, while still others called for litheness and agility. In a group where such general excellence prevailed it is impossible to discriminate and make special mention, as the number was too great.

On every hand were heard expressions of pleasure and a wish that there might be something of a similar nature in the future. The patrons of the entertainment and the Country Woman's Club desire to publicly express their appreciation of the generosity and kindness of these children and their parents, together with Mrs. Sanders, for giving their time and efforts so willingly to further this Campbell enterprise.

The Club wishes to thank Mrs. Langford who materially assisted Mrs. Sanders in the preparation of the attractive program which they provided without cost to the club.

The enertainment netted $106 for the Library fund.

Mt. View Believes In Advertising

The Mountain View Register-Leader of November 17 was a wonderful booster edition of 48 pages in which the buisness men of that town were largely represented—one firm having something like fourteen pages of advertising.

The paper was exceptionally well put out and certainly is a monument to the business enterprize of our sister town, and the editor, P. Milton Smith.

NOTED CALIFORNIA ACTOR IS DEAD

Frank Bacon Succumbs to Attack of Heart Failure

San Francisco—Frank Bacon, the most distinguished native son of California on the stage, died in Chicago Sunday morning.

The passing of "Lightnin' Bill Jones" will probably be as generally mourned as that of Rip Van Winkle and Joe Jefferson. Both were loved by the American people. They were characters who would have understood each other.

Frank Bacon did not live to enjoy as many years of triumph, but his success was hardly the less complete. A year ago 100,000 people in New York city turned out to bid him goodby when he left for Chicago. He had just finished the greatest theatrical run in the history of New York.

If there were an unsatisfied ambition in the life of Frank Bacon it was to return to California, his home, with the play that brought him fame and fortune. He wanted to come back to San Francisco, where he had been an actor at the Alcazar; to San Jose, where he had been a photographer and a newspaper worker, and to Marysville, where he was born. He wanted to play in some of the towns where he had started as property man for a "10-20-30 barnstorming company."

He spent a lifetime in the hardest and most persistent efforts to attain success. He wrote his own play and waited for its recognition. He reached the pinnacle, but only for the brief period of four years. A lifetime would not have exhausted the theatrical future of Bacon in "Lightnin'."

A blood clot on the brain was the immediate cause of death. His blood pressure had been abnormally high for several weeks and just before his death reached 260.

He had been forced to retire from his company playing at the Blackstone Theater a week ago.

He left two children, Mrs. Matthew Allen and Floyd Bacon of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Bacon was formerly Jane Weidman of San Jose. His sisters are Mrs. Emma Graebe of San Francisco and Mrs. Horace Keesling of San Jose.

TRAGEDY IN GALT COURTROOM

Witness on Stand Shot by Plaintiff.

Galt—While he sat in the witness stand in the Justice Court here, G. L. Andrews, president of the Valley Oaks Land Company of Los Banos, was shot and instantly killed by C. B. Crookham, a farm hand.

Crookham, resident of Galt for seven years, had been employed upon a fig orchard by Andrews' company until last June.

He was suing for $81.60 he claimed due as wages and was asking in addition $96 punitive damages for Andrews' allege failure to give him sufficient notice of discharge.

Trial of the case had been under way nearly an hour when the shooting took place.

Crookham said he must have been temporarily insane and protested that he did not know what he was doing.

Crookham had lived in Galt for seven years. He had worked upon various farms in the vicinity. He was 53 years old and without relatives here.

Andrews had lived in Galt until about a year ago, when he went to Los Banos. He was married there three weeks ago to Mrs. A. G. Jameson, widow of a Los Banos physician.

WOODCOCK IN CUSTODY

Man Under Perjury Indictment for Nearly Three Years Surrenders.

San Francisco—Edgar Woodcock, fugitive from justice for two years and ten months, under a perjury indictment that followed the acquittal on a charge of slaying Edward C. Kelly, newspaper circulation solicitor, on September 18, 1919, for an alleged street flirtation by Kelly with Woodcock's wife, surrendered to the police unexpectedly and was released on $10,000 bail.

Outside of saying that he had not been out of the country since his disappearance, Woodcock would make no statement. It is believed that he has been working under an assumed name as a chemist for a big corporation.

SAN JOSE AUTO ACCIDENT

San Jose—Pinned beneath the wreckage of an automobile at the foot of a cliff on the Stevens road, ten miles west of this city, with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Clara Cockrell, dead beside him and his wife unconscious, it was an hour and a half before Wilbur Smith of this city, himself held fast by the wreckage, was able to attract attention of passing autoists and get assistance.

The machine driven by Smith, who is a San Jose automobile dealer, swerved and went over a 50-foot embankment on the Stevens road, which is not traveled to much extent, even on Sunday.

Smith and his wife were not seriously injured.

MULLALLY DECORATED

Washington, D. C.—Brigadier-General Thornwell Mullally, who commanded the 144th Field Artillery, known in California as the "Grizzlies," has been awarded the distinguished service medal, according to an announcement of the War Department. The citation accompanying the award reads:

"He projected, recruited, organized and mobilized the 144th Field Artillery as an additional regiment of the California National Guard.

Musical Program To Be Given

All music lovers are invited to hear the performance of the Brahms Sonata in F minor at the Institute of Music of San Jose on the evening of Wednesday, November 29.

Miss Lena Christopher will be the performer of the evening. She has spent the greater part of the last year in working up this monumental composition of the great romantic master, and it is said that her performance of this sonata is in perfect keeping with the ideas attributed to the composer in the writing of it. LeRoy V. Brant, directeor of the Institute will speak briefly on the life and work of Brahms, and the theme of the sonata.

Complimentary tickets may be had for this event by calling or writing for them at Sherman Clay and Co., 190 South First Street, or The Institute of Music, South Second Street, at San Salvador, San Jose.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

The members of the Sixth grade were pleasantly surprised Wednesday last, when Miss Burgess, their last year's teacher, paid them a visit during the afternoon. Lessons were laid aside and a small party was enjoyed by all.

Monday both the boys' and girls' basketball teams played the Willow Glen teams and were defeated by a score, for the former, of 10-6, and the latter, 8-7. Next time we'll win. Wednesday there were games at the school with the Los Gatos teams.

The Seventh and Eighth grade members are competing for a prize the W. C. T. U. is offering for the best composition on the evil effects of the use of tobacco. Watch next week for the winners.

LANDS OPENED TO ENTRY

Nevada County Land Is Rich Farming Country.

Nevada City.—Scattered parcels of public lands to the total of 483.99 acres, situated mostly in the Pleasant valley region of Nevada county, have been opened to public entry by the general land office. This is a rich farming country and some of the lands are believed to be valuable. Under the ruling of the land office at Sacramento, discharged soldiers and sailors will have the preference of filing on these lands up to February 1, after which the lands will be open to any qualified person for filing under the homestead laws. These parcels were withdrawn from entry in 1899 at the request of the California Debris commission, but have never been utilized for any purpose. They comprise sixteen tracts, ranging from 7.99 acres to eighty acres.

Insulated Shovel.

Where laborers are at work on an electric railway of the third-track class there is always danger if ordinary tools are employed, for the touching of the third rail with a pick, shovel or crowbar may lead to fatal results. There was patented some time ago a tool which is insulated for the purpose of protecting the workmen on electric railways. In the case of the usual shovel there is placed an insulating sleeve over the metallic handle so that there is no possibility of grounding the current through the workman should the tool come into accidental contact with the "live" rail. Furthermore, there is made use of an insulating material of some distinct color, which is an additional precaution.

—AS YOU WOULD DO

(Fourth and Final Talk on School Savings)

Public spirit is, in a broad sense, common to us all. It expresses one of the finest qualities of human nature.

From public spiritedness citizens without children vote for school bonds and tax themselves to help educate the children of others. Men and women who seldom or never use our library are subscribers to the new library fund.

Such examples are among many that prove the inherent nobility of mankind—of your neighbors and friends. So the world in general and our community in particular make progress.

OUR SYSTEM OF SCHOOL SAVINGS

You can easily understand, then, the motives that prompted us to install the Campbell system of School Savings.

Very plainly, caring for hundreds of small accounts would be too laborious for direct financial profit to the bank. But we clearly saw the public benefits. We had the equipment. We were on the ground. Such work was being done by banks elsewhere. Hence to serve the local schools, was, in a sense, our burden of responsibility—was as you would do if you had the facilities and had seen the need as we saw it.

THE POWER OF MONEY AT INTEREST

The power of money at interest!—thousands of adults have never learned it. Yet that knowledge is indispensable to financial independence. Our system of School Savings is teaching this knowledge of interest power to children, so that at the age of maturity they will be already grounded in Success fundamentals. Co-operation from parents and teachers has even this early given our system a success, as you have learned from our published figures, that is remarkable. Do you wonder that we are so proud of results, and have this work at heart so deeply?

John Lund returned to Woodland last week where he is superintending the thrashing of his rice. S. N. Hedegard reports his threshing completed with a very satisfactory crop.

O. Strom has begun active operations on the erection of Prof. Jos. Halemicek's house on South Fourth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Humphrey and Claud Bolton of Santa Ana arrived Monday and are house guests at the A. G. McConnell home.

Mrs. H. N. Baird and son of Ceres are here for a few days visit with their Nebraska friends, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. McConnell.

Rev. W. E. Eckles has purchased the Schuyler property south of the Congregational church and has had cement walk laid, which will be greatly appreciated by the residents of that street and attendants at church as it was always very muddy along that block after a rain.

Work on the Congregational church is progressing steadily and the building will be so completely metamorphosed as to be almost a new structure.

A wedding that was intended to be kept a secret, but which became known as they so often do, was that of Helen Olga Crow and Harry Schultz which occured at Redwood City last week Monday. The young people have started house keeping in a cottage on Kennedy Ave. The bride was a sophomore in the high school, and the groom was employed by the Duplex Block Co.

The Christian Science Society will hold special services at 10:30 o'clock Thanksgiving morning in its chapel at No. 12 Campbell Avenue.

The Congregational and Methodist churches will unite in Thanksgiving services, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Farr giving the address. This year the meeting should have been at the Congregational church but owing to its repairing the services will be in the Methodist church.

John Nipper, clerk for C. H. Whitman, has been on the retired list part of this week owing to an accident from which he suffered an excessive loss of blood. A drill which he was using in doing some fixing on his motorcycle broke and the end penetrated an artery in his wrist. Before the flow of blood was stopped he was very weak.

M. E. Ladies Enjoy Social Afternoon

Mesdames J. C. Ainsley, Hattie Baugh and E. R. Kennedy were hostesses to the ladies of the Aid Society and of the congregation of the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon of last week at a very delightful social afternoon.

Under the skillful hands of Mrs. Chas. Sutter and Mrs. Dorothy Lloyd, the large parlor room had been transformed into a homelike drawing room.

The introduction of rugs, screens, stands and a profusion of the beautiful fall flowers, chrysanthemum, dahlias and Marigold—created an atmosphere of cheer and coziness, when about eighty ladies assembled for this event designed to promote a better acquaintance among the church attendants.

An informal program included a selection from Robert Burdette, read by Mrs. H. W. Williams, a recitation by little Dorothy Clarke, vocal numbers by Viola Norris, and by Miss Jenkins of the high school faculty, and piano selections by Miss Irma Young.

The securing of each other's signatures insured a general intermingling, which was continued over tea and coffee cups. Individual cakes and salted almonds completed the refreshments. Mrs. Peterson presided at the phonograph and supplied music at intervals and altogether the afternoon proved to be one of bright spots in the social life of the church.

Pundita Bazaar Grand Success

That the ladies of the Pundita Circle are enthusiastic workers was evidenced Wednesday in the wonderfully successful bazaar which they held in the hotel rooms. They had made plans for the event to take place later in the year but as other entertainments and affairs were scheduled for next month the ladies decided to anticipate their date and speeded production.

They were extremely grateful to Miss Maxon who so generously turned over her house for their use removing furniture and rearranging things generally.

Having such a central location was a material aid to their success.

All of the various booths were generously supplied with articles at the opening hour altho many were rapidly depleted.

During the afternoon an interesting program was given. A delightful discussion of plants and shrubs was given by Caroline Pitkin Brock of San Jose. Mrs. Warren Shelley sang "Cares of Yesterday" and "Dreamy Days" and Mrs. Ralph Hyde, "My Little Gray Home in the West" and "Your Eyes Have Told Me So," with Mrs. G. S. Robson as accompanist. These ladies are favorites with their Campbell friends who always enjoy their music.

Florence Williams played two Grieg numbers, "To Spring," and "Butterfly," and Olive Hangar played "Tannhauser" from Wagner, and "The Rosary"—and several selections during the evening's sale. The proceeds amounted to $180. The Circle has voted to furnish the retiring room of the Library and this money is to be used for that object.

Pies and cake a baking,
Kitchen piping hot.

Everybody hungry,
Children wild as hares;
Mother very happy—
Angel unawares.

Dinner on the table—
Naught to do but eat;
Father asks the blessing,
Rising to his feet.

Boys have both the drumsticks,
Girls have wings and breast;
Baby takes the wish bone;
Older folks the rest.

All the family happy,
Crackin' nuts and jokes;
May says—"Pass the candy."
Dad hands out the smokes.

Mother starts the singing,
Quaver in her voice—
"Praise God for his mercies,
Let us all rejoice."

Bees Cummercially Profitable

By Harold P. Whitehill.

In retrospect we do not have to look far into the historical past of the bee industry to see the bee-keeper, a man of seclusion necessarily, and suffering thru the lack of modern inventions of equipment and manipulative practice. During the past it was exceedingly difficult to handle large numbers of colonies in log gums and skeps, for in order to secure honey from them the apiarist had to brimstone the unfortunate inmates, cut out chunks of honey here and there with brood larvae mixed, crushing and straining the resulting mass. The great economic loss thru destruction of the entire colony for a season's yield of honey and the laborious process necessary in order to present a salable product, did not present much incentive fifty year ago for bee-keeping as a profession.

To indicate briefly what the pioneers have done in order to bring this basic industry to its present point, we must first consider the modern hive invented by Mr. Langstroth. He conceived the idea of so making a hive that each and all parts could be immediately accessible for examination and free handling. Each comb could be instantly withdrawn so that no bees were mashed and jammed cruelly by the manipulator. Honey could be taken out by simply opening the cover and lifting the comb. Queens could be quickly found if necessary in order to forstall swarming, or could be replaced if their egg-laying capacity was beginning to wane. This was truly a wonderful forward step.

Following this essential invention came another in 1865 which allowed honey to be thrown cleanly from the comb without destroying the cell walls which are extremely delicate. Thus combs could be emptied and placed back with the bees for filling without the otherwise necessary loss of time and energy consequent to wax secretion and comb building. This device called honey extractor by centrifugal force, threw clean honey into a cylinrical tank surrounding it, no pollution thru bee larvae or pollen and dirt particles was thus possible. As soon as this machine came before the bee world production of honey began to be computed by the ton and carload, until in fact, at this time we are informed reliably that honey produced in the United States alone, brings in revenue to our apiarist over $93,000,000. Many families are supported by the monetary returns from bees alone.

However, far the majority of the 1 000,000 bee keepers of the United States keep this stock for the intense enjoyment afforded by recreative purposes combined with the pleasure of producing such a tasty food for the home table and neighboring sale. For this latter type of bee-keeper, Agricultural Experiment Stations, Bee Supply Companies and Bee Journals are extremely helpful. Factory-made hives and equipment are available thru reliable concerns for reasonable outlay, in fact, Los Gatos can boast of an active agent for two of the best Bee Supply Companies in the field. Thru these companies Bee Enclelopedias and reference books satisfying all requirements are available for self-instruction and personal enjoyment. The intricate puzzle of this industrious honey-bee is lucidly and agreeably explained until one wonders why so much unfavorable slander is heaped upon so innocent a subject.

Pioneer Resident Laid to Rest

Funeral services for Albert G. Williams were held Friday afternoon from the Methodist church and were attended by friends and acquaintances of long standing, and co-members of the Congregational church, with which he has been associated for many years.

Rev. W. E. Eckles read the scriptural passage and Rev. F. C. Farr offered prayer. Rev. G. E. Atkinson of Ceres, who was a particularly intimate friend of the Williams family, as well as having been their pastor for a number of years, spoke feelingly from his long acquaintance with the deceased.

An old familiar hymn "Jerusalem, the Golden" was very sweetly sung by Dr. W. I. Merrill.

The body was laid to rest beside that of his wife in the Los Gatos cemetary.

It is with sorrow and a sense of loss that we see these familiar figures pass from among us—the makers of the early history of our town; upright, trustworthy citizens.

COUNTY Y. M. C. A. NOT IN COM. CHEST

The following item is self explanatory and we hope will receive the notice of our readers:—

The County Y. M. C. A. office has been asked many times by our contributors whether or not our organization is in the Community Chest drive that will soon be launched in San Jose and adjacent territory.

The San Jose Y. M. C. A. and the County Y. M. C. A. are two separate organizations The city Association is supported almost wholly by San Jose people and are in the Community Chest of San Jose. The County "Y" is not.

The County Association does not get its support from San Jose but relies entirely upon friends outside of the city. Its work is done outside of San Jose and therefore we have no right to ask support from San Jose.

The Community Chest idea is splendid and I hope it will not be long before it spreads all over our county but for the present year please do not forget to remember the County work of the "Y" if you are approached to give to the Chest. Our Local Unit men will call on you for support of our work in December or January and this note is being sent you to clear up any possible misunderstanding.

In a nutshell—when making out your gift budget for the year don't forget to set aside a portion for the advancement of boyhood through the "Y" in the territory outside of San Jose.

O. H. YERKES,
County Chairman.

W. C. T. U.

A very pleasant meeting of the Campbell Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held with Mrs. Henry Young on Wednesday last. After a psalm of Thanksgiving, read by the superintendent of Evangelistic work, there were many scripture quotations joyfully recognizing the Great Source of the prohibition victory.

One item of business will be of interest to the little people for it was decided to give two prizes in addition to those already offered. These to be also upon the evils of cigaret smoking and to be competed for by the Sixth Graders are to be gifts but not in money.

It was voted to donate $25.00 toward the fund for the new library building and a collection was taken for that purpose. The president, Mrs. Wilson, gave further notes upon the enthusiastic state convention and closed with an eloquent talk upon the value of the passage of the Wright Act, not only upon the present generation but even more upon posterity.

Miss Irma Young and Miss Vivian Gill favored the ladies with music, both vocal and instrumental, for which they received thanks. Mrs. Young invited those present to accept hospitality in the shape of delicious fruits and exceptionally fine nuts, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. C. H. Whitman on Wednesday, December 13th, when it is hoped there may be a large attendance.

IN this age when science has made light, power and water everywhere available, when machinery has lessened labor and anaesthetics have dulled the edge of pain, the funeral director has utilized science to lighten the burden of the sorrowing.

With the aid of science he is able to protect the family and the community from the danger of contagion, to make transportation safe, and to remove the traces of illness and unnaturalness which used to accentuate the grief caused by death.

With the help of professionally trained assistants, modern equipment, motorized conveyances, and often a fine funeral home or chapel, he is able to relieve the family of all details, and perform a service that brings comfort in the darkest hour and affords the consoling consciousness that the last tribute has been fitting and beautiful.
